MEMORANDUM

ATTORNEY-CLIENT PRIVILEGED COMMUNICATION

TO: Board of Commissioners
Paul H. Beckhusen, General Manager
Michigan South Central Power Association

FROM: Steven D. Mann

RE: Authorization for Alternate Board Members

DATE: July 23, 2019

We have been asked to address whether “alternate” board members of the Board of Commissioners of the Michigan South Central Power Agency (the “Agency”), originally authorized under amendments to the Agency’s by-laws in 1983, are lawfully recognized board members. Because Act 448, Public Acts of Michigan, 1976, as amended (“Act 448”), pursuant to which the Agency was established, does not authorize “alternate” board members, the answer is “no.”

Under Act 448, a joint agency “shall be governed by a board of commissioners appointed by the respective governing bodies of the municipalities which are members of the joint agency. The governing body of each member shall ... appoint 1 commissioner ... Each commissioner shall serve at the pleasure of the governing body by which he was appointed.” MCL 460.832 (emphasis added). The Agency’s Articles of Incorporation mirror this statutory scheme. In 1983, the Agency amended its bylaws to provide that each member municipality “may by resolution appoint an Alternate Commissioner who shall be entitled to vote only in the absence of the Commissioner.” Michigan South Central Agency By-Laws As Amended and Restated, Adopted August 11, 1983 (the “1983 By-Laws”).

The general rule in Michigan is that local units of government possess no inherent powers, but rather only those powers that are conferred by the State. Mich. Muni. Liability & Property Pool Muskegon County Road Comm’n, 235 Mich. App. 183 (1993); City of Taylor v. Detroit Edison Co., 475 Mich. 109 (2006). What has become known across the United States as “Dillon’s Rule”¹ was recognized by the U.S. Supreme Court in its landmark 1907 decision, Hunter v. City of Pittsburgh, in which the Court defined municipal corporations as “political subdivisions of the State, created as convenient agencies for exercising such powers of the State as may be entrusted to them..." 207 U.S. 161, 178-9 (1907). As Michigan courts have consistently held, while the State legislature may exercise such powers of government coming within a proper designation of legislative powers as are not expressly or impliedly prohibited, "local units can exercise those only which are expressly or impliedly conferred, and subject to such regulations or restrictions as are annexed to the grant." City of Taylor, 475 Mich. at 115 (citing City of Kalamazoo v. Titus, 208 Mich. 252, 262 (1919), quoting 1 Cooley, Constitutional Limitations (7th ed.), pp. 163, 264 et seq.); Toebe v. City of Munising, 282 Mich. 1, 16 (1937)(holding that for an implicit power to be found the power must be "not simply convenient, but indispensable," and that "any fair, reasonable substantial doubt concerning the existence of power is resolved by the courts against the [local unit]." (Emphasis added).

Pursuant to Dillon's Rule, as recognized in Michigan, the Agency may not expand its power pursuant to the 1983 By-Laws to an extent greater than that which is statutorily authorized. Because Act 448 only authorizes each member municipality to appoint 1 member of the board of commissioners, "alternate" board members are not lawfully appointed and are not, for all legal purposes, members of the board of commissioners. Consequently, such alternates may not attend closed sessions of the board², may not be counted towards a quorum of the board, and may not vote on any actions of the board. Rather, at best, such "alternate" members only serve in a non-voting advisory capacity.

² Unless such "alternate" board member was expressly invited into the closed session to assist the public body in its consideration of the subject matter of the closed session.
